DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In the amendment filed 07/25/2007, the following has occurred: Figures 1-13 have been corrected, priority in specification added, and claim 20 has been amended. Claims 1-28 are currently presented and have been considered for examination.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

As per claim 1, Dejaeger teaches a method of tracking a plurality of financial transactions between a user receiver and at least one content provider coupled to the user receiver by a network, wherein the tracking is performed by a third party separate from the user receiver and separate from the at least one content provider, the method comprising the steps of:

- a. storing preliminary information for each of the plurality of financial transactions in a third party controlled data base (see column 34 lines 44-58); format corresponding to said displayed summary information to said determined display capabilities (column 16 lines 48-56; the interactive customer interface terminal includes a display monitor which is provided to display retail information to the customer during operation of the checkout system. For example, transaction information such as item price, item description, total amount of the transaction, instructions, etcetera is displayed to the customer via the display monitor during operation of the checkout system in either its assisted mode of operation or its self-service mode of operation) examiner notes that a determination of display capabilities and matching format compatibilities is necessary in order to display such information.

9. As per claim 7, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 1. Dejaeger further teaches said finalizing step is further comprised of the step of displaying at least one checkout display screen (column 16 lines 48-56).

10. As per claim 8, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 7. Dejaeger further teaches the step of displaying at least one advertisement simultaneously with said at least one checkout display screen (column 59 lines 47-65).

11. As per claim 9, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 8. Dejaeger further teaches said at least one advertisement includes linking information to a specific content provider (column 59 lines 47-65).

12. As per claim 11, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 6. Dejaeger further teaches said displayed summary information utilizes only a portion of said determined display capabilities of the user receiver (See Figure 21).

13. As per claim 12, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 1. Dejaeger further teaches the steps of: permitting selection of one or more of the financial transactions by the user receiver for additional information inquiry; obtaining said additional information for said selected financial transactions from said third party controlled data base; and displaying said additional information for said selected financial transactions (column 34 lines 44-58).

14. As per claim 13, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 1. Dejaeger further teaches the steps of: permitting selection of one or more of the financial transactions by the user receiver for additional information inquiry; obtaining said additional information for said selected financial transactions from the at least one content provider affected by said selected one or more financial transactions; and displaying said additional information for said selected financial transactions (column 34 lines 44-58).

Art Unit: 3691

15. As per claim 14, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 1. Dejaeger further teaches the step of finalizing said selected one or more financial transactions is performed by a network operator (column 34 lines 40-54).

18. As per claim 17, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 15. Dejaeger further teaches said fee is based on a total number of finalized financial transactions (column 26 lines 47-66).

19. As per claim 18, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 15. Dejaeger further teaches said fee to a specific content provider of said at least one content providers is based on a total number of finalized financial transactions occurring between said user receiver and said specific content provider (column 26 lines 47-66).

Art Unit: 3691

20. As per claim 19, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 15. Dejaeger further teaches said fee is based on a cost associated with said finalized financial transactions (column 26 lines 47-66).

21. As per claim 20, Dejaeger teaches a network-based system for supporting a financial transaction, the system comprising:

- a. a network (column 33 lines 40-58);
- b. a content provider coupled to said network, wherein said content provider supplies enhanced content programming relating to said financial transaction (column 33 lines 40-58);
- c. a receiver coupled to said network, said receiver capable of receiving said enhanced content programming and interacting with said content provider via said network (column 33 lines 40-58);

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

29. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

30. Claims 10 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over, Dejaeger, U.S. Patent No. 6,296,185 B1 (PTO-892 Reference A) in view of Fields, U.S. Patent No. 4,400,724 (PTO-892 Reference B).

31. As per claim 10, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 1. However Dejaeger does not teach said displayed summary information is displayed as a semi-transparent screen overlay. The Examiner notes, displaying information in this fashion does not modify the operation of Dejaeger's invention. To modify Dejaeger's display to include a semi-transparent screen overlay would have been obvious to the skilled artisan because the inclusion of such view would have been an obvious matter of design choice in light of the method already disclosed by Dejaeger (see Fields, column 11 lines 2-7). Such a modification would not have otherwise affected Dejaeger and would have merely represented one of numerous views that the skilled artisan would have found obvious for the purposes of displaying multiple messages, already disclosed by Dejaeger. Additionally, applicant has not persuasively demonstrated the criticality of providing this arrangement versus the arrangement discloses in Dejaeger. See In re Japikse, 181 F.2d 1019, 86 USPQ 70 (CCPA 1950).

32. As per claim 25, Dejaeger teaches the above limitations of claim 20. However Dejaeger does not teach said displayed selected portion of said stored data and information is a semi-transparent overlay. The Examiner notes, displaying information in this fashion does not modify the operation of Dejaeger's invention. To modify Dejaeger's display to include a semi-transparent screen overlay would have been obvious to the skilled artisan because the inclusion of such view would have been an obvious matter of design choice in light of the method already discloses by Dejaeger (see Fields, column 11 lines 2-7). Such a modification would not have otherwise affected Dejaeger and would have merely represented one of numerous views that the skilled artisan would have found obvious for the purposes of displaying multiple messages, already disclosed by Dejaeger. Additionally, applicant has not persuasively demonstrated the criticality of providing this arrangement versus the arrangement discloses in Dejaeger. See In re Japikse, 181 F.2d 1019, 86 USPQ 70 (CCPA 1950).

Response to Arguments

33. Applicant's arguments filed 07/25/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

34. Applicant argues that:

None of the cited references teach or suggest a database coupled to a network and third party controlled means for storing portion of data as mentioned in claims 1 and 20.

Examiner responds that:

Dejaeger directly teaches this limitation (see Dejaeger Col. 34 Lns. 44-58). Examiner's interpretation is that the local memory acts as the third party means that controls and maintains the transaction tables, and the tables function as a database (in accordance with well recognized definition shown in PTO-892 Reference U a table, as related to the computer technologies, is defined as a data structure consisting of a list of entries). Examiners also notes that the local memory along with the network memory is controlled by the processing unit 78b which acts as a third party separate from the retailer and user (see Dejaeger Col. 33 Lns. 55-59) shown by the unit's communication with the retailer's network.

Art Unit: 3691

Conclusion

35. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Computer Dictionary, Microsoft press, 1994 (PTO-892 Reference U) teaches a table to be a data structure consisting of a list of entries.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
